

ROOSEVELT BOOMED FOR GOVERNOR AT FIRE CONVENTION

Southern New York Volunteers
Open Three-Day Session at Oyster Bay.

(Special to The Eagle.)—Oyster Bay was today put into the hands of the Southern New York Volunteers Firemen's Association for the annual three-day convention at the Lyric Theatre. Today and tomorrow, the firemen will have the run of the town, while on Thursday the fire department of Oyster Bay will stage a parade and tournament. Six counties are represented at the convention.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt opened the day's session of the convention, which was presided over by William H. Thomas Jr. of Canaan. He welcomed the firemen to his home town and told of his experience as a volunteer fireman in Connecticut. He praised the men for their work in the past and asserted that the volunteer fireman was typical of the American democracy.

Then after calling for a silent tribute to his father, the late President Roosevelt, he broke into a dissertation upon political topics, and in a momentary necessity of dealing with certain dangerous situations in the history of the country by telling a never-ending story of Roosevelt's life.

Col. Roosevelt at one time, he said, was riding over the top of the Lyric in a stage driven by one "Bill" and noticed that a woman in the crowd got out to fix a wheel while the Colonel climbed to the top of the Lyric. He called out to "Bill" and said: "I would rather fix a wheel than to have any other man fix a wheel for me."

Our national life, said young Roosevelt, does not allow for any rather, industrial disorders must be dealt with calmly and sanely so that the need of Bolshevism may not be seen. We must act, continued the speaker, as if we were business men and had vested interests in the Government.

Col. Roosevelt concluded his address by warmly welcoming the firemen, after which he was loudly cheered at his next address. Chester Painter, former supervisor of Oyster Bay, then welcomed the men and spoke of Oyster Bay's great man with reverence. The speaker, James Finnegan, continued in the name of the firemen, and told of the old days and telling of his rise from a tiny village to the summer capital of the United States. The speakers were Thomas O'Keefe, former State Senator, and James O'Donnell.

One of the first of the usual pranks played at the convention was done by Fred Shields of Linden, who, in a fire alarm this morning and caused some commotion in the Lyric hall. The fireman have to attend to their duties as well as their pranks. Accordingly Shields decided to pretend as if he were a fireman and a merry chase for nothing.

Judging by Mr. Shields' request that he be taken to the Lyric, it seems that the convention of the Southern New York Volunteers for this season, Officers of the association, now in session are William H. Thomas, president; Fred Shields and Peter DeDion, vice presidents; Warren K. Haviland, secretary; and Philip Peters, treasurer.

FLUSHING WORLD WAR VETERANS ARE FIRST ON L. I. TO ORGANIZE

(Special to The Eagle.)—Set Everett Gould of Co. G, 10th Inf., was elected president of the Flushing Branch of the World War Veterans Association. The meeting last night at Flushing High School, presided over by Louis J. Marquis, who was wounded during the battle of the Argonne, was the first of the series of meetings which the Navy was made treasurer and Henry Kelly, who was wounded at the battle of the Marne, was elected secretary.

There are 1,600 men in Flushing eligible for membership in the association and a drive to enroll them was started. In an effort to be made to obtain the Soldiers and Sailors Clubhouse, on State st., as a headquarters for the organization, the Flushing branch is said to be the first Long Island division of the association. Commissioners of the association are not eligible to hold the major offices of the association.

The executive committee selected last night, however, are: President, Set Everett Gould; Vice President, William Bradshaw, who was wounded at the battle of the Marne; Secretary, Louis J. Marquis, who was wounded at the battle of the Argonne; and Treasurer, Henry Kelly, who was wounded at the battle of the Marne.

GLEN COVE POLICE NEED WOMAN AID

(Special to The Eagle.)—Glen Cove, L. I., June 10.—That there is soon to be a movement for the appointment of a woman police officer with full authority for the city of Glen Cove is seen in the information which comes to The Eagle through Miss Edna Copeland, district nurse, who intends to bring the matter before the attention of the City Council. Miss Copeland expected to bring the subject to the Council at a meeting yesterday, but because there was no meeting at the usual time the matter will wait a week. The question will be put before the members of the Council in the way of a suggestion, whereby law and order may be more effectively carried out in Glen Cove.

In explaining matters yesterday Miss Copeland stated to a representative of The Eagle that she has been a parent for some time that Glen Cove is a place where a woman officer is more than necessary. North Hempstead Can't Control Speeding Autoists

(Special to The Eagle.)—Manhasset, L. I., June 10.—James J. Dowsey, councilman representing the Town of North Hempstead, reported to the Town Board last night that he did not have the power to regulate the speed by which automobiles may be driven within the town limits. The members of the Town Board received numerous complaints of excessive speed by drivers of automobiles in the town, and they were unable to curb the same. It was within their power, however, to take action against the nuisance within two weeks.

NEW LONG BEACH REE FOR PARKING AUTOS IS WILLINGLY PAID

(Special to The Eagle.)—Long Beach, L. I., June 10.—The new traffic regulations which went into effect last Sunday, and which persons parking their cars south of Park ave., are required to pay a fee of 25 cents, worked out smoothly on its first day of trial, according to Traffic Director W. McConville.

A couple of weeks ago the new traffic regulations were adopted by the village board, and since that time much has been heard both in and out of the village that it would not be long before the regulations, on the ground that it would be a hardship on the law to charge any fee. It was fully expected outside the village that the regulations would be a failure.
